Verbatim

A fragile frame may contain verbatim material.

```
\begin{frame}[fragile]
  \frametitle{Verbatim}    % needs 'fragile'
  ...
```

The lines above are typeset exactly as written.

A listing

```
fn main() {
    let pages = render(&document);
    println!("{}", pages.len());
}
```

A long list I

- ▶ Item one of a list that is too long for a single frame.
- ▶ Item two.
- ▶ Item three.
- ▶ Item four.
- ▶ Item five.
- ▶ Item six.
- ▶ Item seven.
- ▶ Item eight.
- ▶ Item nine.
- ▶ Item ten.
- ▶ Item eleven.
- ▶ Item twelve.
- ▶ Item thirteen.
- ▶ Item fourteen.

A long list II

- ▶ Item fifteen.
- ▶ Item sixteen.
- ▶ Item seventeen.
- ▶ Item eighteen.
- ▶ Item nineteen.
- ▶ Item twenty, the last one, on the second page of the frame.

The command form

This frame was written with `\frame{...}` rather than the environment.

Plain

A plain frame has no headline, footline or sidebars, and the text width is the full paper width minus the margins.

The end

The last frame.
